

FOIAb3b

FOR CIA -- MAIL ROOM LIBRARY

PROGRAM Richard Harkness

STATION WRC-TV

DATE April 28, 1965 11:00 P.M.

CITY Washington, D.C.

CEREMONY FOR NEW CIA DIRECTORS

CPYRGHT

RICHARD HARKNESS: "At the White House today, President Johnson presided over the swearing in of the new number one and number two man of the Central Intelligence Agency. Admiral William Raborn became Director -- Richard Helm his deputy.

"Mr. Johnson had this to say about the agency and Admiral Raborn."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON WAS SEEN IN A FILM CLIP,
AS HE SPOKE AT CEREMONY.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON: "It was his phenomenal ability as a manager, as a leader, and as an inspiration to his co-workers, and as a dedicated patriotic man himself that gave America the great strength of the Polaris missile. His genius was proved in that task."

HARKNESS: "And straightway, CIA Director Raborn faced his first crisis -- the landing of 400 U. S. Marines in the Dominican Republic. Raborn participated in tonight's White House decision."